NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS (UNAUDITED)

A. Basis of Presentation and Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying interim unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the instructions to Form 10-Q and applicable rules and regulations. Certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed or omitted pursuant to such rules and regulations. In management's opinion, all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position, results of operations and cash flows have been included and are of a normal, recurring nature. The results of operations for the three and nine months ended March 31, 2005 are not necessarily indicative of the operating results for the full fiscal year or any future periods.

You should read the financial statements and these notes, which are an integral part of the financial statements, together with our audited financial statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2004 ("2004 Annual Report"). The accounting policies used to prepare the financial statements included in this report are the same as those described in the notes to the consolidated financial statements in our 2004 Annual Report unless otherwise noted below.

We have reclassified certain prior period amounts to conform to the current year presentation.

Stock-Based Compensation

We have equity incentive plans under which we have granted nonqualified and incentive stock options to employees, non-employee directors and consultants. We also have an employee stock purchase plan. We account for stock-based awards to employees, including shares issued pursuant to the employee stock purchase plan, in accordance with Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees" (APB 25), and related interpretations. We have adopted the disclosure-only alternative of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation" (SFAS 123), as amended by SFAS No. 148, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation – Transition and Disclosure" (SFAS 148).

Pro forma information regarding net income and net income per share is required and has been determined as if we had accounted for our stock-based awards under the fair value method, instead of the guidelines provided by APB 25. We estimated the fair value of the stock option awards at the date of grant and employee stock purchase plan shares at the beginning of the offering period using the Black-Scholes option valuation model. The Black-Scholes option valuation model was developed for use in estimating the fair value of traded options that have no vesting restrictions and are fully transferable. Option valuation models require the input of highly subjective assumptions, including expected life and stock price volatility. Because our options have characteristics significantly different from those of traded options, and because changes in the subjective input assumptions can materially affect fair value estimates, in the opinion of management, the existing models do not necessarily provide a reliable single measure of the fair value of our stock option awards.

For purposes of pro forma disclosures, we have amortized the estimated fair value of our stock option awards to expense over the options' vesting periods and the estimated fair value of our employee stock purchase plan shares over the offering period. Our pro forma information under SFAS 123 and SFAS 148 is as follows:

On December 16, 2004, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) finalized SFAS No. 123R, "Share Based Payment" (SFAS 123R), which will be effective for our interim and annual reporting periods beginning after June 15, 2005. SFAS 123R will require that we expense stock options and employee stock purchase plan shares using a binomial lattice valuation model that the FASB believes is capable of more fully reflecting certain characteristics of employee stock options. The effect of expensing stock options and employee stock purchase plan shares on our reported results of operations will likely differ from the pro forma information reflected in the table above, which is based on the Black-Scholes model.

Net Income per Common Share

We compute net income per common share in accordance with SFAS 128, "Earnings Per Share." This statement requires the presentation of basic income per common share, using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period, and diluted net income per common share, using the additional dilutive effect of all dilutive securities. The dilutive impact of stock options account for the additional weighted average shares of common stock outstanding for our diluted net income per common share computation. We calculated basic and diluted net income per common share as follows:

	Three Montl March		Nine Months End March 31,
	2005	5 2004		2005 2004		2004

Shares related to stock options of 262,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2005, and 154,000 for the nine months ended March 31, 2005, were excluded from the calculation of diluted net income per common share, as the effect of their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive.

Shares related to stock options of 55,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2004, and 82,000 for the nine months ended March 31, 2004, were excluded from the calculation of diluted net income per common share, as the effect of their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive.

D. Debt

We have a $12.0 million credit facility with a bank. The facility is comprised of an $8.0 million working capital line of credit and $4.0 million in term loans. The working capital line of credit has a 2.5-year term, is secured by our accounts receivable and other rights to payment, general intangibles, inventory and equipment, has an interest rate of LIBOR plus 1.75% and borrowings are subject to eligibility requirements for current accounts receivable and inventory balances. The term loans consist of a $700,000 ten year term loan with a twenty year amortization, secured by our San Marcos building, at an interest rate of LIBOR plus 2.25%; a $1.8 million four year term loan, secured by our accounts receivable and other rights to payment, general intangibles, inventory and equipment, at an interest rate of LIBOR plus 2.10%; and a $1.5 million five year term loan, secured by equipment, at an interest rate of LIBOR plus 2.10%. Monthly payments on the term loans are approximately $74,000 plus interest. As of March 31, 2005, the amount outstanding on the term loans was $3.4 million and the outstanding balance on the working capital line of credit was $1.2 million. As of March 31, 2005, we had $6.1 million available under the line of credit, net of a $440,000 outstanding letter of credit issued to our landlord.

On February 1, 2005, we amended our credit facility with the bank to increase the limitation on our capital expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2005 from $6.5 million to $8.0 million. All other terms and conditions of our credit facility remain in full force and effect.

On April 1, 2005, in accordance with our lease agreement, we reduced our outstanding letter of credit issued to our landlord to $270,000.

Additionally, we have a term loan agreement for $1.1 million, secured by our San Marcos building, at an annual interest rate of 8.25%. The loan is due in June 2011 and provides for principal and interest payable in monthly installments of $10,800. As of March 31, 2005, the amount outstanding on the term loan was $621,000.

The composite interest rate on all of our outstanding debt was 4.87% at March 31, 2005, and 6.00% at March 31, 2004.

E. Defined Benefit Pension Plan

We sponsor a defined benefit pension plan, which provides retirement benefits to employees based generally on years of service and compensation during the last five years before retirement. Effective June 21, 1999, we adopted an amendment to the plan to freeze benefit accruals to the plan's participants. We contribute an amount not less than the minimum funding requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 nor more than the maximum tax-deductible amount.

The components included in the net periodic benefit cost for the periods ended March 31 were as follows (dollars in thousands):

		Three Mon Marc		ded	Nine Months End March 31,

F. Economic Dependency

We had substantial net sales to certain customers during the periods shown in the following table. The loss of any of these customers, or a significant decline in net sales or the growth rate of net sales to these customers could have a material adverse impact on our net sales and net income. Net sales to any one customer representing 10% or more of the respective period's total net sales were as follows (dollars in thousands):

We buy certain products from a limited number of raw material suppliers. The loss of any of these suppliers could have a material adverse impact on our net sales and net income. G. Segment Information

Our business consists of one segment, the development, manufacturing, marketing and distribution of nutritional supplements. Our products are sold both in the United States and in markets outside the United States, including Europe, Australia and Japan. Our primary market outside the United States is Europe.

Net sales by geographic region, based upon the customers' location, were as follows (dollars in thousands):

Products manufactured by NAIE accounted for 49% of net sales in markets outside the United States for the three months ended March 31, 2005 and 37% for the three months ended March 31, 2004. NAIE accounted for 49% of net sales in markets outside the United States for the nine months ended March 31, 2005 and 42% for the nine months ended March 31, 2004.

No products manufactured by NAIE were sold in the United States during the nine months ended March 31, 2005 and 2004.

H. Contingencies

From time to time, we become involved in various investigations, claims and legal proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of our business. These matters may relate to product liability, employment, intellectual property, tax, regulation, contract or other matters. The resolution of these matters as they arise will be subject to various uncertainties and, even if such claims are without merit, could result in the expenditure of significant financial and managerial resources. While unfavorable outcomes are possible, based on available information, we generally do not believe the resolution of these matters, including that discussed below, will result in a material adverse effect on our business, consolidated financial condition, or results of operation. However, a settlement payment or unfavorable outcome could adversely impact our results of operation. Our evaluation of the likely impact of these actions, including that discussed below, could change in the future and we could have unfavorable outcomes that we do not expect.

On February 10, 2005, a complaint was filed against NAI on behalf of Novogen Research Pty. Ltd. in the United States District Court, Southern District of New York alleging a cause of action for patent infringement of a Novogen product by products manufactured by NAI. Based on our preliminary investigation of the infringement claims, we believe the claims made in the patents are likely invalid. As of May 13, 2005, no amount of monetary damages had been claimed. The parties are attempting to resolve the matter in an out-of-court settlement but if we are unable to do so we intend to vigorously defend the action.

As of May 13, 2005, other than as set forth above, neither NAI nor its subsidiaries were a party to any material pending legal proceeding nor was any of their property the subject of any material pending legal proceeding.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion and analysis is intended to help you understand our financial condition and results of operations for the three and nine months ended March 31, 2005. You should read the following discussion and analysis together with our unaudited consolidated financial statements and the notes to the consolidated financial statements included under Item 1 in this report, as well as the information included in our 2004 Annual Report. Our future financial condition and results of operations will vary from our historical financial condition and results of operations as described below.

Executive Overview

The following overview does not address all of the matters covered in the other sections of this Item 2 or other items in this report or contain all of the information that may be important to our stockholders or the investing public. This overview should be read in conjunction with the other sections of this Item 2 and this report.

Major business developments for the nine months ended March 31, 2005 included the following:

- Achieved a $700,000 improvement in income before income taxes over the comparable nine-month period last year despite incurring increased regulatory costs of $652,000 related to the Therapeutic Goods Administration of Australia (TGA) certification review of our U.S.-based manufacturing facilities and $323,000 related to public company compliance matters under the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002.
- We extended our relationship with one of our largest customers, NSA International, Inc.
- Our two largest customers comprised 78% of our year-to-date net sales. Sales to our second largest customer grew 64% over the comparable ninemonth period last year.
- Sales from powder products for the first nine months increased to 30% of our total net sales compared to 16% in the comparable nine-month period last year. Powder products typically include higher material cost as a percentage of selling price as compared to capsule or tablet products, resulting in lower material contribution margins.
- TGA performed their Good Manufacturing Practices physical audit of our U.S.-based facilities during the third quarter. While there can be no assurance that we will receive the TGA's final certification, we expect we will receive our certificate of compliance by the end of our current fiscal year.
- Funded $6.8 million of capital expenditures from available cash on hand and utilization of our line of credit. The capital expenditures were invested primarily in the build out of our Vista, California facility, which included the acquisition of additional manufacturing equipment.

On May 3, 2005, we celebrated our 25th anniversary and the grand opening of our recently completed 160,000 square-foot production facility in Vista, California. We believe the newly constructed facility and our anticipated TGA certification will be key competitive advantages that we can use to extend relationships with our existing valued customers and attract other large, high quality customers.

Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates

The preparation of our financial statements requires that we make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in our financial statements and their accompanying notes. We have identified certain policies that we believe are important to the portrayal of our financial condition and results of operations. These policies require the application of significant judgment by our management. We base our estimates on our historical experience, industry standards, and various other assumptions that we believe are reasonable under the circumstances. Actual results could differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. An adverse effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, and results of operations could occur if circumstances change that alter the various assumptions or conditions used in such estimates or assumptions.

Our critical accounting policies are discussed under Item 7 of our 2004 Annual Report. There have been no significant changes to these policies during the nine months ended March 31, 2005, with the exception of our policies on derivate financial instruments described below.

Derivative Financial Instruments

We use derivative financial instruments in the management of our foreign currency exchange risk inherent in our forecasted transactions denominated in Euros. We may hedge our foreign currency exposures by entering into offsetting forward exchange contracts and currency options. We account for derivative financial instruments using the deferral method under FAS 133, "Accounting for Derivatives and Related Hedging Activity," when such instruments are intended to hedge identifiable, firm foreign currency commitments or anticipated transactions and are designated as, and effective as, hedges. Foreign exchange exposures arising from certain transactions that do not meet the criteria for the deferral method are marked-to-market.

We recognize any unrealized gains and losses associated with derivative instruments in income in the period in which the underlying hedged transaction is realized. In the event the derivative instrument is deemed ineffective or sold prior to maturity, we would recognize the resulting gain or loss in income at that time

Results of Operations

The results of our operations for the periods ended March 31 were as follows (dollars in thousands, except per share amounts):

One percentage point of our private label contract manufacturing net sales increase for both the third quarter and year-to-date periods was attributable to the strengthening of the Euro against the U.S. dollar. Excluding the impact of changes in currency exchange rates, the remaining increase over the comparable quarter and year-to-date periods was due primarily to higher volumes of established products in existing markets sold to our two largest customers. Net sales growth from our two largest customers contributed 17 percentage points over the comparable quarter and 28 percentage points over the comparable year-to-date period. The discontinuation of relationships with two of our newer customers resulted in a 14 percentage point reduction from the comparable quarter and seven percentage point reduction from the comparable year-to-date period. We discontinued these relationships due to the disproportionate risks related to inventory levels and accounts receivable required to continue serving these customers. The remaining increase in quarterly and year-to-date private label contract manufacturing net sales was from growth in sales to new customers, partially offset by decreased volumes with existing customers.

The increase in our private label contract manufacturing net sales was partially offset by the decrease in our direct-to-consumer net sales. This decrease was a continuation of the decline in sales for the Dr. Cherry Pathway to Healing TM product line due to our prior reduction in media spending investment in new television markets for the product line and a reduction in new customer acquisitions from our primary television market. We market our Dr. Cherry Pathway to Healing TM product line primarily through weekly television programming. During the third quarter we completed what we believe are improvements to the content and style of several of the programs. The new programming was introduced in the beginning of April 2005. It is too early to determine whether the new programming will have a positive impact on sales of the product line. In addition, we recently decided to postpone direct mail testing for the Chopra Center EssentialsTM product line, which was scheduled to begin in the fourth quarter of fiscal 2005. We anticipate resuming our direct mail testing plan in fiscal 2006.

Gross profit margin decreased 510 basis points from the comparable quarter and 250 basis points from the comparable year-to-date period. The change in gross profit margin was primarily due to the following:

- A shift in sales mix resulted in 390 basis points of the decrease in the third quarter and 530 basis points of the decrease for the year-to-date period. The shift in sales mix resulted from selling higher volumes of established powder products to one of our largest customers. Powder products typically include higher material cost as a percentage of selling price compared to capsule or tablet products, resulting in lower material contribution margins.
- Additional inventory reserves resulted in 180 basis points of the third quarter profit margin decrease.
- Reduction in direct-to-consumer marketing program royalties resulted in a 60 basis point benefit over the comparable quarter and year-to-date period.
- Reduction in labor and overhead of 170 basis points from the comparable year-to-date period was primarily due to improved operational efficiency.

Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $509,000, or 13%, from the comparable quarter last year, and increased $263,000, or 2%, over the comparable year-to-date period last year. The quarter and year-to-date variances were primarily attributable to the following:

- Incremental Sarbanes-Oxley (SOX) compliance costs of $113,000 in the third quarter and $323,000 year-to-date. We do not expect to incur additional SOX costs for the remainder of fiscal 2005.
- Incremental costs of $260,000 in the third quarter and $652,000 year-to-date due to increased regulatory certification requirements to improve service to our customers selling products in international markets.
- Incremental personnel costs of $191,000 in the third quarter and $665,000 year-to-date primarily due to hiring additional personnel to strengthen quality assurance, regulatory compliance, product formulation and sales and marketing.
- Reduced clinical study costs of $374,000 in the third quarter and $137,000 year-to-date as a result of lowering our level of participation in certain clinical studies.
- Reduced compensation payments under our Management Cash Incentive Plan of $600,000 in the third quarter and $727,000 year-to-date.
- Reduced direct-to-consumer marketing program brand development spending of $183,000 and call center costs of $393,000 year-to-date associated with lower direct-to-consumer net sales.

Other expense, net, increased $139,000 over the comparable quarter and $66,000 over the comparable year-to-date period. The quarter and year-to-date variances were primarily attributable to the following:

- Loss associated with derivative financial instruments to manage our foreign currency exchange risks of $48,000 for the third quarter and $143,000 year-to-date.
- Incremental loss on translation of Euro denominated cash and receivables of $90,000 in the third quarter and incremental gain on Euro translation of $26,000 year-to-date.
- A gain of $47,000 on the sale of a previously written-off investment in the second quarter of fiscal 2005 partially offset the year-to-date net foreign exchange loss.

In the second quarter of fiscal 2005, we adjusted our annual effective tax rate to 31% partially due to a shift in taxable income between taxable jurisdictions and anticipated reduced levels of profitability for the remainder of fiscal 2005. NAIE operates under a five-year Swiss federal and cantonal income tax holiday that ends June 30, 2005. Following the expiration of our tax holiday, we anticipate NAIE's effective tax rate for Swiss federal, cantonal and communal taxes will be approximately 23% compared to our effective rate as of March 31, 2005 of approximately 5%.

Our effective tax rate was not affected by the American Jobs Creation Act, which was signed into law on October 22, 2004. The new act creates a temporary incentive for U.S. multinational corporations to repatriate accumulated income earned outside the United States by providing an 85% dividend received deduction for certain dividends from controlled foreign corporations. Whether we will ultimately take advantage of this incentive depends on a number of factors including NAIE's future cash requirements and the possible development of a qualified reinvestment plan. At this time, NAIE's retained earnings remain indefinitely reinvested offshore.

While we anticipate fourth quarter net sales and profitability will be consistent with our third quarter results, overall our net sales for fiscal 2005 are on pace to surpass our record net sales of fiscal 2004. Although regulatory costs are expected to decline in the fourth quarter, we anticipate higher direct-to-consumer brand development expenses as we explore alternatives to diversify our revenue.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our primary sources of liquidity and capital resources are cash flows provided by operating activities and the availability of borrowings under our credit facility. Cash provided by operating activities was $1.9 million for the first nine months of the current year, compared to cash used in operating activities of $961,000 for the first nine months of last year. The increase in cash flows from operating activities is primarily due to improved management of working capital components and receiving $960,000 from our landlord to fund tenant improvements. Additionally, in September 2004 we made compensation payments of $1.6 million under our fiscal 2004 Management Cash Incentive Plan.

During the first nine months of fiscal 2005, we invested approximately $6.3 million in the expansion of our Vista, California production facility, which included the acquisition of additional manufacturing equipment. The expanded facility should help us improve operational efficiency, increase manufacturing capacity and reduce business risk. On February 1, 2005, we amended our credit facility to increase the limitation on our capital expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2005 from $6.5 million to $8.0 million. All other terms and conditions of our credit facility remain in full force and effect. Capital expenditures for our fiscal third quarter included $960,000 of tenant improvements that were funded by tenant improvement allowances.

Our consolidated debt increased to $5.3 million at March 31, 2005 from $4.7 million at June 30, 2004. Our $12.0 million credit facility is comprised of an $8.0 million working capital line of credit and $4.0 million in term loans. The working capital line of credit has a 2.5-year term, is secured by our accounts receivable and other rights to payment, general intangibles, inventory and equipment, has an interest rate of LIBOR plus 1.75% and borrowings are subject to eligibility requirements for current accounts receivable and inventory balances. The term loans consist of a $700,000 ten year term loan with a twenty year amortization, secured by our San Marcos building, at an interest rate of LIBOR plus 2.25%; a $1.8 million four year term loan, secured by our accounts receivable and other rights to payment, general intangibles, inventory and equipment, at an interest rate of LIBOR plus 2.10%; and a $1.5 million five year term loan, secured by equipment, at an interest rate of LIBOR plus 2.10%. Monthly payments on the term loans are approximately $74,000 plus interest. As of March 31, 2005, the amount outstanding on the term loans was $3.4 million and the outstanding balance on the working capital line of credit was $1.2 million. As of March 31, 2005, we had $6.1 million available under the working capital line of credit, net of a $440,000 outstanding letter of credit issued to our landlord. Under our credit facility, we may not create, incur or assume additional indebtedness without the approval of our lender.

On April 1, 2005, in accordance with our lease agreement, we reduced our outstanding letter of credit issued to our landlord to $270,000.

On August 9, 2004, we purchased ten monthly participating forward contracts designated and effective as cash flow hedges against the foreign currency exchange risk inherent in our forecasted transactions denominated in Euros. The participating forwards consist of ten put options providing protection when the exchange rate of the United States dollar to the Euro decreases below our contracted strike price of $1.1892, and ten call options that offset the initial cost of the purchased put options. The call options obligate us to give up 50% of the foreign currency gain related to the forecasted transactions when the United States dollar/Euro exchange rate increases above our contracted strike price. The participating forward contracts had an initial notational amount of $1.5 million. As of March 31, 2005, we had exercised seven of the participating forward contracts and the unrealized loss for the remaining three monthly participating forward contracts of $41,000 was included in our condensed consolidated balance sheets under "Accumulated Other Comprehensive Loss."

As of March 31, 2005, we had $3.5 million in cash and cash equivalents. We plan on funding our current working capital needs, capital expenditures and debt payments using available cash, cash flow from operations and our credit facility.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We do not have any off-balance sheet debt nor do we have any transactions, arrangements, obligations (including contingent obligations) or other relationships with any unconsolidated entities or other persons that may have a material current or future effect on our financial condition, changes in financial condition, results of operations, liquidity, capital expenditures, capital resources, or significant components of revenue or expenses.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In November 2004, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 151, "Inventory Costs, an amendment of APB No. 43, Chapter 4" (SFAS 151). SFAS 151 clarifies that abnormal inventory costs such as costs of idle facilities, excess freight and handling costs, and wasted materials (spoilage) are required to be recognized as current period charges. The provisions of SFAS 151 are effective for our fiscal year beginning July 1, 2006. We do not expect that the adoption of SFAS 151 will have a material impact on our consolidated financial position or results of operations.

On December 16, 2004, the FASB finalized SFAS 123R, "Share Based Payment" (SFAS 123R), which will be effective for our interim and annual reporting periods beginning after June 15, 2005. SFAS 123R will require that we expense stock options and employee stock purchase plan shares using a binomial lattice valuation model that the FASB believes is capable of more fully reflecting certain characteristics of employee stock options. The effect of expensing stock options and employee stock purchase plan shares on our reported results of operations using the Black-Scholes model is presented in the notes to our condensed consolidated financial statements under Item 1 of this report.

Additional recent accounting pronouncements are discussed under Item 7 of our 2004 Annual Report. As of March 31, 2005, other than the pronouncements described above and the pronouncements discussed in our 2004 Annual Report, we are not aware of any other pronouncements that materially affect our financial position or results of operations.

Risks

You should carefully consider the risks described under Item 7 of our 2004 Annual Report, as well as the other information in our 2004 Annual Report, this report and other reports and documents we file with the SEC, when evaluating our business and future prospects. If any of the identified risks actually occur, our business, financial condition and results of operations could be seriously harmed. In that event, the market price of our common stock could decline and you could lose all or a portion of the value of your investment in our common stock.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

We are exposed to market risk, which is the potential loss arising from adverse changes in market rates and prices, such as foreign currency exchange and interest rates. We generally do not enter into derivatives or other financial instruments for trading or speculative purposes. We may, however, enter into financial instruments to try to manage and reduce the impact of changes in foreign currency exchange rates. We cannot predict with any certainty our future exposure to fluctuations in foreign currency exchange and interest rates or other market risks or the impact, if any, such fluctuations may have on our future business, product pricing, consolidated financial condition, results of operations or cash flows. The actual impact of any fluctuations in foreign currency exchange or interest rates may differ significantly from those discussed below.

Interest Rates

At March 31, 2005, we had fixed rate debt of $621,000 and variable rate debt of approximately $4.7 million. The interest rates on our variable rate debt range from LIBOR plus 1.75% to LIBOR plus 2.25%. As of March 31, 2005, the weighted average effective interest rate on our variable rate debt was 5.44%. An immediate one hundred basis point (1.0%) increase in the interest rate on our variable rate debt, holding other variables constant, would increase our interest expense by $35,000 for the nine months ended March 31, 2005. Interest rates have been at or near historic lows in recent years. There can be no guarantee that interest rates will not rise. Any increase in interest rates may adversely affect our results of operations and financial condition.

Foreign Currencies

To the extent our business continues to expand outside the United States, an increasing share of our net sales and cost of sales may be transacted in currencies other than the United States dollar. Accounting practices require that our non-United States dollar-denominated transactions be converted to United States dollars for reporting purposes. Consequently, our reported net earnings may be significantly affected by fluctuations in currency exchange rates. When the United States dollar strengthens against currencies in which products are sold or weakens against currencies in which we incur costs, net sales and costs could be adversely affected.

Our main exchange rate exposures are with the Swiss Franc and the Euro against the United States dollar. This is due to NAIE's operations in Switzerland and the payment in Euros by our largest customer for finished goods. Additionally, we pay our NAIE employees and other expenses in Swiss Francs. We may enter into forward exchange contracts, foreign currency borrowings and option contracts to hedge our foreign currency risk. Our goal in seeking to manage foreign currency risk is to provide reasonable certainty to the functional currency value of foreign currency cash flows and to help stabilize the value of non-United States dollar-denominated earnings.

On August 9, 2004, we purchased ten monthly participating forward contracts designated and effective as cash flow hedges against the foreign currency exchange risk inherent in our forecasted transactions denominated in Euros. The participating forward consists of ten put options providing protection when the exchange rate of the United States dollar to the Euro decreases below our contracted strike price of $1.1892, and ten call options that offset the initial cost of the purchased put option. The call options obligate us to give up 50% of the foreign currency gain related to the forecasted transaction when the United States dollar/Euro exchange rate increases above our contracted strike price. The participating forward contracts had an initial notional amount of $1.5 million and a weighted average strike price of $1.1892. As of March 31, 2005, we had exercised seven participating forward contracts.

On March 31, 2005, the Swiss Franc closed at 1.20 to 1.00 United States dollar and the Euro closed at 0.77 to 1.00 United States dollar. A 10% adverse change to the exchange rates between the Swiss Franc and the Euro against the United States dollar, holding other variables constant, would have decreased our net income for the nine months ended March 31, 2005 by $587,000.

ITEM 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

We maintain certain disclosure controls and procedures. They are designed to help ensure that material information is: (1) gathered and communicated to our management, including our principal executive and financial officers, on a timely basis; and (2) recorded, processed, summarized, reported and filed with the SEC as required under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Our management, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as of March 31, 2005. Based on their evaluation, they concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures were effective for their intended purpose described above. There were no changes to our internal controls during the quarterly period ended March 31, 2005 that have materially affected, or that are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal controls.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATION

ITEM 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

From time to time, we become involved in various investigations, claims and legal proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of our business. These matters may relate to product liability, employment, intellectual property, tax, regulation, contract or other matters. The resolution of these matters as they arise will be subject to various uncertainties and, even if such claims are without merit, could result in the expenditure of significant financial and managerial resources. While unfavorable outcomes are possible, based on available information, we generally do not believe the resolution of these matters, including that discussed below, will result in a material adverse effect on our business, consolidated financial condition, or results of operation. However, a settlement payment or unfavorable outcome could adversely impact our results of operation. Our evaluation of the likely impact of these actions, including that discussed below, could change in the future and we could have unfavorable outcomes that we do not expect.

On February 10, 2005, a complaint was filed against NAI on behalf of Novogen Research Pty. Ltd. in the United States District Court, Southern District of New York alleging a cause of action for patent infringement of a Novogen product by products manufactured by NAI. Based on our preliminary investigation of the infringement claims, we believe the claims made in the patents are likely invalid. As of May 13, 2005, no amount of monetary damages had been claimed. The parties are attempting to resolve the matter in an out-of-court settlement but if we are unable to do so we intend to vigorously defend the action.

As of May 13, 2005, other than as set forth above, neither NAI nor its subsidiaries were a party to any material pending legal proceeding nor was any of their property the subject of any material pending legal proceeding.

ITEM 2. UNREGISTERED SALES OF EQUITY SECURITIES AND USE OF PROCEEDS

None.

ITEM 3. DEFAULTS UPON SENIOR SECURITIES

None.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

None.

ITEM 5. OTHER INFORMATION

On May 9, 2005, in an effort to enhance our manufacturing operations in Manno, Switzerland we amended our property lease to, among other things, increase the square footage to approximately 37,639 square feet. The new lease, including the additional space, commences on October 1, 2005 and has a term of ten years and three months.
